CHERRY PECTORAL

For the Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

Of all the numerous remedies, and some of them valuable) for the cure of pulmonary complaints, nothing has ever been so effectual in subduing them as this Preparation. Others cure sometimes, but not all times and in all diseases of the lungs and throat where relief is given to any patient, take with confidence Wistar's Balsam, and fully realize the benefit which they offer. Public men, who have had the opinion known its value, will find it a powerful friend when they are exposed to sudden changes, and a single dose will often save them from the distressing consequences of a cold. Clergymen, whose voices are failing in consequence of Bronchial affection, will find relief by its use. Singers and public speakers will find it clearing, and preserving the voice. Travellers will find it a safeguard against the fatal consequences of exposure to the inclemency of our variable climate. Parents will find it the best protection for their children, who are peculiarly liable to Throat and Lung diseases.

The following opinion of one of the longest practitioners of the common-wealth of Massachusetts, is but a specimen of the numerous testimonials in the possession of the proprietors:

SPRINGFIELD, May 8, 1851

Dr. J. C. Ayer—

Five years ago, I bought your CHERRY PECTORAL, in my practice has proved to be the best remedy I can employ for most of the complaints of the throat and lungs, that are so prevalent and fatal in this section, and for which we, in this section, are peculiarly liable.

I think it equal has not yet been discovered, nor do I know how a better remedy can be made for the many distressing complaints of the throat and lungs.

J. THORNTON, M. D.

See what Rhode Island has to say of consumption, not only in the following case, but in thousands of others:

SMITHFIELD, R. I., Jan. 24th, 1851.

Dr. Ayer—In the month of July last, I was attacked by violent pain in the breast, which terminated in a severe cough, and finally settled in the lungs, so that I was very much reduced in flesh, and unable to do any work. I finally started for home, but was obliged to stop at Providence, where I was confined to my bed for three weeks. I was then carried on board the steamboat, and when I arrived at Providence, I was carried on board the steamboat, and when I arrived at Providence, I was carried on board the steamboat, and when I arrived at Providence, I was

OF NORTH CAROLINA.

OF BELFAST.

FOR CONGRESS

ISRAEL WASHBURN Jr.

☞ The loco papers in Maine, including the Bangor Democrat and the Jeffersonian, have referred to, or made pretended extracts from a letter reported to have been written by Horace Greeley, speaking disrespectfully of Gen. Scott. No such letter is in existence. Mr. Greeley has pronounced it a fabrication and a forgery. We submit, now, that this political campaign, though it be active and zealous and warm, ought to be truthful, gentlemanly and just. Falsehoods cannot essentially aid either party, and if it could ought not to be resorted to for by their use the merits of the controversy will be lost sight of, and if editors and others should unitedly agree to go into a regular system of lying and deception, the neither regions would not be deep enough for their descent. The truth of the matter is, that falsehoods and forgeries, gross personalities and abuses are very apt to beget their like, and in the end they do no real good but are the parents of a multitude of evils. We intend to do what we can to promote the election of the whig candidate. We desire the success of the whig cause. We have a strong confidence that Gen. Scott is a better man for president than Franklin Pierce. We are much better satisfied with the principles and measures of the whig party, than with those of the loco party, and we shall labor to make all this appear and we hope to satisfy other minds by referring to the history and character of Gen. Scott, and by arguments and illustrations touching the principles, measures and tendencies of the two parties. All this we deem legitimate and right, and all this we are satisfied may be done fully, earnestly and effectively, and yet in good temper; good taste, good nature and gentlemanly, leaving no unnecessary sting in the posom of our opponents after our party have achieved the victory, as undoubtedly they will, and which we feel it is much for the real welfare of even the masses of the loco party that they should, for the masses of the party are equally interested with the whigs in having our excellent form of government rightly, and fairly and wisely administered.

While, then, we mean on our part to conduct the campaign on the principles we have laid down, and ask every correspondent and informant to confine themselves to the same, in all fidelity, we do not mean to be quiet or look-ward or mealy mouthed in exposing to the scorn of every honest man the conduct of our opponents, if they resort to deceptions, to forgeries and falsehoods. Justice and truth, in our judgment both demand of those editors in Maine and elsewhere, who have from any cause made use of the pretended and fabricated and forged letter of Mr. Greeley, to which we have referred to, at once disabuse their readers regarding it. Mr. Greeley is an earnest advocate for the election of Gen. Scott. He believes in the patriotism, the ability and the honesty of Gen. Scott, and to misrepresent him and falsely to impute to him sentiments and opinions which he does not and never did entertain is an unjustifiable wickedness, and a foolhardy recklessness which in the end will return to plague the inventors, and which if persisted will deserve the contempt and scorn of every honest man in the community.

☞ In a call we made a few days since upon Gen. Scott, at his private residence in Washington, we observed upon his tables in his parlor the beautiful swords and medals presented to him by the Congress of the United States, and by several of the States as testimonials of his honorable conduct in the discharge of his official duties in the service of his country, in which he often perilled his life. No American citizen can look upon the rich and beautiful productions, those gold medals and gold mounted swords, the honorable and complimentary gifts of Congress and State legislatures, and trace the events and the heroic conduct they commemorate, and the character of the man upon whom they were bestowed, without a feeling of just pride that such a man is an American, and that his fame and services are a common and precious treasure of the nation worthy of being guarded and perpetuated as a possession worthy of being transmitted as a glorious heritage to the future. These testimonials cannot be blotted out, and they ought not to be, and that man must be base, indeed and wanting in true regard for the honor and reputation of his country, who would lessen in a jot or tittle, any of the honor acquired by Gen. Scott, and which these munificent presents commemorate.

Gen. Scott is not a man of wealth, as the world counts wealth, but he possesses in a large degree the wealth of a good character, the wealth of true patriotism, and of a clear head and a right heart. Had it not been for this wealth he never would have received the rich tokens which he now possesses of the regards and honors of his countrymen.

He went to Mexico a poor man, according to commercial and tax book values, and though millions of money were at his command in that country, he returned without a Mexican dollar clinging to his pockets of attaching to his palms. But he returned rich with honors and honored in the hearts of his countrymen, and beloved in the heart of hearts of his soldiers. He can truly say without contention, to every visitor to his dwelling as they delightfully gaze upon the emblems of his country's regards, "These, gentlemen, are my only riches, the only gold and silver that I possess, as the grateful remembrances of my country's greatness."

What shall be thought then and what shall appropriately be said of those hymns of the reputation of the country, and of her successful, able and honored chief, who for half a century has devoted himself to its security and peace, who would tear out every bright and precious page of the history which has become world-renowned, that they may triumph in a political contest? They are most ripe and mean. They would take the grave and ladies stand in order to blacken any reputation, if thereby they could hope to secure a party victory. But thanks to the intelligence and gratitude of the people, ten thousand times ten thousand fold of of the slime of venom, defamation and abuse cannot dim the brilliant services which General Winfield Scott has rendered his country, nor cause his fame to be eclipsed. The deeds of this glorious man are part and parcel of the living realities of our times, and form a portion of the annals of our country, which every man of intelligence and honor will labor to preserve.

☞ The ratification meeting of democrats at the Court House on Wednesday evening, was not a very enthusiastic or brilliant affair. Col. Amos M. Roberts was Chairman, and A. L. Simpson, Esq., Secretary. The speakers were Senator Hamlin, S. H. Blake, Esq., and W. B. S. Moor. Our neighbor of the Mercury says that "the speakers had nothing to say, except, perhaps one who gave utterance to a musty old catchword about the Whigs being the party of money and monopoly—a queer suggestion for a meeting which was presided over by a Bank President, one of the richest men in the State, and two but of three of whose speakers are men of wealth and children of monopoly." One of these is the largest owner in the company that owns the portion of the Penobscot river above Oldtown as exclusive that an Indian can't sail his canoe over it unless he gives bond not to let his tea-kettle steam in the stern."

From Texas.—Advices from Galveston to the 18th, report a most unsettled and alarming state of things along the Western Frontier. If these accounts are to be credited neither property nor life is safe above Brownsville. Armed bands of Indians and Mexicans are said to be prowling along the river, plundering property and taking life in every direction. How much of this is to be attributed to the filibustering spirit which has long tinctured most accounts from Brownsville, it is impossible to say exactly, though doubtless much. Fortunately a reinforcement of United States troops had just arrived at Indianola and Brazos. The cholera was still prevalent in Western Texas among the German immigrants, but had become much less fatal among the Americans. Among the deaths mentioned is that of Mr. Marshall, an "American traveller."

☞ The Providence Journal says: "The nomination of Harrison in 1840 gave as great offence to the friends of the defeated candidates, as that of Scott has now; and the nomination of Taylor in 1848, was complained of in the same spirit by the men who had set their hopes on his rivals. Both the former nominations gave great satisfaction to the majority, both were speedily acquiesced in by the whole body of the party, and both triumphantly carried by the people. If the Whigs will do their duty, and come up faithfully to the work before them, the parallel will be carried out by the election of General Scott, by as large a majority, at least, as that given to General Taylor."

☞ We would direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of our neighbors Messrs. D. W. Morrill & Co. to be found in another column. They are excellent workmen and honorable men and have established themselves in business with the determination to fabricate good and durable articles and to sell them at a fair price. Their means of accommodating the public are ample, their experience in manufacturing carriages is large and their skill is well known. Their enterprize is one which commends itself to the public attention and particularly to all those who understand the benefits of giving encouragement to home labor.

☞ A number of merchants in New York have purchased a magnificent dagger, at a cost of $7,100, as a present to the black emperor of Hayti, Soloulque. The weapon is highly tempered steel, most superbly mounted in gold, profusely bedecked with jewels, and breathed in crimson and blue velvet. On the summit of the richly chased and jewelled handle is a crown, studded with diamonds and pearls, and on the hilt is the name of the emperor. The top and bottom of the scabbard are of gold and literally sparkle with gems, arranged in agemously varied forms, and including diamonds, rubies, amethysts and pearls.

☞ The cholera is raging fearfully at Jackson, Mo. On the 21st ult. the town was nearly deserted, not enough remained to bury the dead—and some ten or twelve corpses were lying in the houses unburied. The deaths number between forty and fifty. Among the victims were Col. J. W. Russell, Baugh, editor of the Southern Democrat.

☞ Messrs. Richards & Curtis are engaged in the preparation of an excellent article known as the Saponine Tooth Powder, and which they put up in very neat packages. It is an article of much value and is destined to be generally approved and used. The firm have also been preparing the Geranium Balm for restoring the hair, which has been highly commended.

☞ We are indebted to Charles P. Kimball, Esq., the proprietor of the Noisey Carrier's Publishing Hall, a very popular establishment in San Francisco, California, for a file of California papers which may be found in our Reading Room. We are also indebted to Luther C. Woodman, Esq., for Shasta papers by the last mail.

☞ It will be seen on referring to the advertisement of the agent in our columns, that the Menagerie and Circus combined, is to enter our city to-morrow for exhibition, and are to remain here, giving three exhibitions on Monday, the anniversary of our National Independence.

☞ The Steamer Eastern State is to make a grand excursion on Monday to Belfast, Castine and the Islands. It will afford a fine opportunity to get a breath of pure sea air, and enjoy Independence day.

☞ John, the faithful body servant of John Randolph, died recently near Troy, Ohio, where he went after his manumission.

☞ The Methodist meeting house at Biddeford was struck by lightning on Tuesday of last week, and damaged to the amount of $500.

☞ A paper published at Windsor, Canada West, states that the arrival of fugitive slaves, at that place, averages three per day.

☞ "Leon," the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot, says it is currently rumored that Mr. Webster and Mr. Corwin will resign together.

Texas dates to the 17th state that five Californians were murdered beyond the San Fernando by a party of Mexicans.

☞ The best fleeces of wool were selling at Rochester, New York, on Saturday at 37½ cts. per lb.

BALTIMORE, June 24.

The Whig papers received here from the interior of Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina, all announce the Whig nomination and platform with expressions of satisfaction, and say they will be supported by the Whigs of their respective States.

American Enterprize.

An English paper publishes a series of lectures on American ingenuity recently delivered in England by Capt. McKinnon of the British navy. The following is an extract:

He thought there was something original in the American mind and that as far as invention went they were the first in the world. This was to be attributed to various causes, and they were more inventive than the English for the following reasons:—

If a man invented anything in this country, he was looked upon as a projector, and his efforts did not meet with encouragement; but there, if he invented any thing, even so little, he was considered a great man, taken in hand by influential men, and made a fortune. He knew several who had amassed large sums, from £1,000 to £20,000. He should like to see an Englishman do that—he would be laughed at till he expected it. (Applause.) The first invention he could speak of was one that amused him very much.

He saw a large whip which was coming to Europe with wheat, and alongside was a very curious thing, like a mud machine and several bags full of grain. He was very much astonished and went on board to examine the machine, which he found to be a grain elevator, which was intended to pump the grain from the barges into the big ship. He at first laughed at it, and thought it to be a Yankee invention and a fib, but when he got on board he found that it pumped grain at such an awful pace, that it almost drowned him before he got up the Hatchway. (Laughter and applause.) He found it delivered 20,200 bushels per hour. "Suppose," said the speaker, pointing to the ceiling, "there was a great hole up there—it would send the grain at such an awful pace, that we shouldn't all get out—for we should be drowned, quite half of us." (Great laughter.)

The next thing that struck him as an ingenious matter, was at Cincinnati, where the hogs killed in the western States last year for exportation were 951,000. There was a man there who had discovered a method of making use out of hog's lard. (Great laughter.) It seemed a funny thing, but it was a fact.

The Mayor of Milwaukie city, in Wisconsin, who was a great friend of his, actually told him that he was making a bargain with the man to light the town with gas out of hog's lard. He certainly did not live there long enough to see it himself but he was told that it was true, and he believed it. (Cheers.)

Another invention was a sole paint, which he described as being most beautiful, and worthy a trial by all present.

Another very ingenious thing he had witnessed at the Patent Office in Washington. If was pointed out to him by a gentleman, but he could not describe it. I had a large handle to it, and he asked what it was, when he said it was a sewing machine, (great laughter) which could make seventeen pairs of pantaloons a day; but it was then out of order and would not work, and he did not see it himself, and he could not, therefore, vouch for its accuracy, but believed it to be true.

Another invention was made by a man who had a large dairy containing upwards of one hundred cows, and finding it very expensive to get them milked, he set his wife to work and invented a milking machine. With India rubber, gutta percha and springs, he milked them just as dry as possible. (Much laughter.)

The captain amused his audience by relating the effects of the milking machine upon the cows, and declared the flown cat Yankees were the most inventive people possible, and were industriously player fellows. They had a good story there which was the good to be had, and was an astonishing matter.

The Yankee babies, when not eating or sleeping, were still doing something, and the was what they were thinking about—the Yankees suspected that the baby was raising its eyes round and thinking how to improve the cradle! (Uncontrollable laughter.)

He thought that was sufficient of Yankee ingenuity for the present, but he would give them more specimens by-and-by. (Laughter.)

☞ The following touching obituary is from a late No. of Zion's Herald:

George F. Manson died in Bangor, May 1st, aged 18. Of the most amiable disposition, refined sensibilities, and ardent hopes, life was all sunshine to him, especially after his conversion to God. Some twenty years since his heart was an overflowing fountain of love and good will to all. Successful in business and surrounded by a kind family, his cup of earthly bliss was full, to full to overflowing. Ten years since a much loved and only sister was taken away, and the father bowed in sadness beneath the coming storm of adversity. A little more than two years ago an angel daughter lay shrouded in the bosom of the tomb. The father's heart was broken—clothed up his business, and henceforth devoted special attention to a preparation for eternity. Six months since his wounded sympathies bled for the last time at the bier of another daughter—the "sweet singer" of the household. Though he bowed silently and submissively to the will of Providence, it was evident that, of all earthly possessions, God alone was now upon this land the desire. His acquaintance enjoyed intercourse with a spirit ripening for heaven, he wished to meet the "loved ones" in the "better land." His disease was unusually painful, but he bore it nobly large that death could find no other assailable point.

25,000 Sold per Year!

The Unsurpassed and Unsurpassable
Bay State Stove,
OF SIX SIZES, of heavy and smooth castings—price from $15 to $36—celebrated for its whole cooking apparatus, carrying off the cooking by broiling, boiling, &c., &c., in storability and economy—may be had at headquarters, at the well known and long established
Stove, Furnace and Range DEPOT,
Nos. 80 & 82 MAIN STREET, and 2 and 4 WALL STREET, OF
N. JOHNSON,
who is SOLE Agent, and always has been, for this market, for the sale of the celebrated Stove above named, of which 25,000 were sold the past year, and of which some 30,000 will not be more than sufficient to supply the demand the present year.

The BAY STATE is sold and warranted as usual. Returned after an unsatisfactory trial of 30 days, the price paid will be refunded, together with interest and cost of returning.

Persons purchasing the BAY STATE, and desiring repairs, are not subjected to the trouble of sending to Rhode Island or New York for castings, nor to wait in Bangor for them, AS I HAVE THEM ON HAND!

A CHALLENGE OF $50

is proposed, that 50 Stoves of six sizes, of any other pattern than the BAY STATE, (for which I am sole Agent,) cannot be produced which will compare with the 50 I now have on hand, in thickness and smoothness of Castings, or in facility and capacity of, broiling, baking, boiling, or other cooking requisite.

The public are specially requested not to mistake a Stove called the "IMPROVED BAY STATE, which is a cheaper and inferior article of thinner and less durable castings, and which is sometimes advertised with the word 'improved' after it, and purports to be original and genuine BAY STATE, which has been so generally and thoroughly tested and admired.

All other kinds of STOVES constantly on hand, as above, which will be sold at reduced prices.

Bangor Air-Tight COOKING STOVE

THE best Cook Stove ever introduced to this or any other public.

Having secured the sole agency of this very desirable Stove, I take great pleasure in offering it to my customers and the public. This Stove was intended expressly for this eastern market, by those experienced and expert Stove manufacturers, Messrs. Eastes & Whittier, who knowing and have appreciated the wants of this enlightened people. It is now offered to the public with the fullest confidence in its merits, and its superiority over every other Cooking apparatus ever introduced. Its conveniences for, Boiling, Broiling, Frying, &c., are not surpassed, and its extensive and beautiful Oven for Baking and Roasting, will of itself recommend itself to the Ladies. One very important feature is, it has very stout and smooth castings, and being manufactured in this city, can at all times be repaired, if ever necessary, at a trifling expense without subjecting one to wait for castings to be ordered from New York, Rhode Island, or elsewhere. Every Stove is warranted one year, and one not giving entire satisfaction may be returned and the money will be refunded after 30 days trial.

—ALSO—
A great variety of other patterns of cooking Stoves, such as the
Our States, Bay State, Empire State, Granite State, State of Maine, &c.,
All or any of which will be sold at extremely low prices.

Elevated Oven Stoves—Hampden 3 and 4 Boiler and two Oven—Boston two oven Stoves, Forrest Queen, &c.—and that very beautiful pattern of Cottage Parlor Cook Stove, and in fact every variety of Stove for Cooking or warming, worthy of notice, can be found at the Central Street Store and Furnace Depot, No 15, 17, and 19.
